Form ENRG-B General Instructions

What is a recognized nonfossil form of energy generation?

A recognized nonfossil form of energy generation means:

- a system that captures energy or converts energy sources into usable sources, including electricity, by using:
 - solar energy, including passive solar systems
 - wind
 - solid waste
 - the decomposition of organic waste
 - geothermal
 - fuel cells that do not require hydrocarbon fuel; or
- a system that produces electric power from biomass or solid wood wastes, or
- a small system that uses water power by means of an impoundment that is not over 20 acres in surface area.

What is a low-emission wood or biomass combustion device?

A low-emission wood or biomass combustion device means a wood-burning appliance that:

- is certified by the U.S. environmental protection agency pursuant to 40 CFR 60.53, or
- uses wood pellets as its primary source of fuel.

Beginning in 2009, the term also includes:

- an outdoor hydronic heater qualified for the phase 2 white tag under the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Method 28 OWHH, or
- a masonry heater constructed or installed in compliance with the requirements for masonry heaters in the International Residential Code for One- and Two-Family Dwellings.

Who qualifies for the alternative energy system credit?

The alternative energy systems credit is available only to a Montana resident individual who installs a recognized nonfossil form of energy generation such as a wind generating system or installs a low-emission wood or biomass combustion device such as a wood or pellet burning stove in his or her principal dwelling or home. This credit is not available to a nonresident individual.

I have installed a wood burning stove, which is one type of an alternative energy system, in my principal home this year but I am unable to claim the full amount of my alternative energy system credit because my income tax liability is less than $500. Can I carry my unused credit forward?

Yes. This credit is considered a nonrefundable carryover credit in which you can carry forward any unused portion of your alternative energy system credit for four succeeding tax years.

Complete lines 15, 16 and 17 to determine the amount of alternative energy system credit that can be carried forward when you have installed a system using low emission wood or a biomass combustion device. Your total credit reported in the year of installation and in subsequent years cannot exceed the maximum credit of $500 per taxpayer for each installation.

My spouse and I both own our primary home. Can we both qualify for the alternative energy system credit?

If you both paid for the installation of any one alternative energy system and the total cost was $1,000 or more, you can each claim up to $500. If the cost of the system was less than $1,000, you may allocate the credit between you and your spouse, but neither spouse can claim more than $500.

I made repairs to my alternative energy system this year. Am I entitled to claim this credit for the cost of my repairs?

No. Repairs to your existing alternative energy system are not installation costs that entitle you to an additional alternative energy system credit.

For example: In 2009, you replaced damaged solar panels that were installed in your principal home in 2007 and at which time you claimed an alternative energy system credit of $500. You are not entitled to an additional $500 credit for the repairs and replacement of parts to your existing solar system.
