

Synopsis of the Proposed Confederated Salish & Kootenai Tribes – Montana Alcoholic Beverages Tax Agreement

The proposed alcoholic beverages tax agreement helps to minimize potential issues related to the taxation of alcoholic beverages and enforcement of alcoholic beverage laws on the Flathead Reservation. Under the proposal, one tax is collected and revenues are distributed between the State and the Confederated Salish & Kootenai Tribes. The State will administer the tax and remit quarterly tax distributions to the Confederated Salish & Kootenai Tribes.
